Follow the steps from 1 to 8: In order to submit a Paper on the platform, you need to set up an account first (Step-1). Create an account by entering your email address and following the instructions sent by email.

If you already have an account and are logged in, you will see the Submission page below in (Step 2).

(1) Log in with your credentials

(2) After log in, you will end up in this page.

(3) This is where you will upload your Paper, categorize it according to the most suitable topic, enter your Abstract and add the names of any Co-Authors.

The screenshot shows the Morressier submission interface. The 'Upload your documents' section is active, featuring a 'Submission Title' input field with the placeholder text 'Enter the title of the paper you wish to submit'. Below this is the 'Full Manuscript' section, which includes an 'Upload file' button and a 'or drag and drop here' area. A note specifies 'PDF format, not larger than 30MB'. A blue 'Continue' button is positioned at the bottom right of this section. The 'Categorize your paper' section is partially visible below, with a 'Select category' button.

(4) Select the appropriate category based on your research article domain.

The screenshot shows the 'Categorize your paper' section of the Morressier submission interface. A message at the top states: 'Please note that this Call for Papers is not yet open for submission and you will not be able to save your input.' Below this is a 'Topic' dropdown menu with the instruction 'Select the topic that best fits your paper'. The dropdown is open, displaying a list of categories: 'Material Characterization (Room and at Elevated Temperatures)', 'Sustainable materials', 'Green Manufacturing', 'Shape memory alloys', 'Environmental aspects of traditional materials', 'High strain rate deformation of Materials', 'Bio-materials', and 'Advanced machining processes'. The 'Bio-materials' option is currently selected.

(5) Provide the content of your abstract.

The screenshot shows the Morressier submission interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Morressier logo and a user profile icon. The main content area is titled "Provide the content of your abstract" and includes a warning message: "Please note that this call for papers is not yet open for submission and you will not be able to save your input." Below this is a rich text editor for the abstract, with a toolbar containing options for bold, italic, underline, strikethrough, bulleted list, numbered list, link, and unlink. A "Continue" button is located at the bottom right of the abstract section. Below the abstract section, there are two more sections: "Add any co-authors" with an "Add co-authors" button, and "Answer the disclosure statement" with an "Answer statement" button.

(6) Add the Co-authors of your paper.

The screenshot shows the Morressier submission interface for adding co-authors. It features a warning message: "Please note that this Call for Papers is not yet open for submission and you will not be able to save your input." Below the warning, there is a checkbox labeled "I am the first Author of this Paper:". The form is divided into two sections: "1st" (first author) and "Co" (co-author). Each section contains four input fields: "Full name", "Email", "Institution", and "Department". The "Institution" and "Department" fields for the first author are marked as "Required for first author". A "Continue" button is located at the bottom right of the form.

(7) Add disclosure statement.
